EXPLORE. ENJOY. PROTECT.

Dear Pamela,

Never doubt what we can do together, Pamela.

Things weren't looking good a year ago. Congress firmly in the hands of dirty energy. Shell hell-bent on drilling the Arctic. And a looming Keystone XL pipeline threatening our children's future.

But, we fought every one of these odds. And, at every turn, you were there. Along with 2.4 million other Sierra Club supporters. Helping us fight back and push and shout and defend what's left of our unscarred, natural world.

And now? Whoa. Look what we did together! And I hope as you read, you truly and deeply understand that none of it could have happened without your support.

Pamela,

A mother sea turtle swims thousands of miles to lay her eggs on the very beach upon which she was born. Now if that's not dedication, I don't know what is.

Potentially deadly man-made threats like indiscriminate fishing gear and habitat loss risk preventing mother sea turtles from completing their journeys. That's where we come in.

We can't predict what wild animals will need help or when, but with you on our team, we can be ready for any animal that comes through the door.

Like this porcupine found weak, thin and barely moving on a park path in Oakville. Suffering from a skin parasite, the porcupine's skin was raw and scabby. With medical treatment and rehabilitative care, the porcupine is already on the mend. But it will take time.
