

Thank
You

Happy Summer, Pam!

I hope you are well. I wanted to share this picture with you - our team just took a group of 40 to Viet Nam and returned with some amazing photos. This young man received a set of adaptive feeding utensils, empowering him to be independent. Every kid at the center was overjoyed and rushed to try out their new utensils. Your $20 gift last month was enough to cover his set and I know he would want us to pass along his appreciation!

Thank you for all the amazing work you do. Have an incredible week!
